

STUDENT & ATHLETE

THE NEW CRISIS MANAGEMENT PLAN

WHAT TO CONSIDER IF YOU'RE INVOLVED IN CAMPUS MISCONDUCT

- Don't try to be an adult alone!
Call home
- Campus police are real police!
- Don't talk to school administrators without a lawyer or support person
- Don't turn over your cell phone without professional advice
- Save texts and social media; it could be important later
- Keep your mouth shut! Don't talk to your friends about what's happening
- Keep your distance! Don't contact the other party
- Get mental health and academic support right away
- Don't withdraw from school!
- You can't run from the problem

IMPORTANT RESOURCES

SEX EDUCATION

- Planned Parenthood - "Ask Roo," a chatbot that enables a user to anonymously submit awkward questions about sex. Roo is free and private.
- O.School - A website that explores all topics concerning sexuality and dating; site contains medically accurate videos, articles and live streams.
- Iwannaknow.org - The website published by the American Sexual Health Association, a non-profit organization. Helps train parents to be "askable."
- Scarleteen.com - A website that takes an edgy, nonjudgmental approach to talking about sex.
- Sexetc.org - A website written by teens for teens, maintained by Rutgers University.
- Amaze.org - A website published by Advocates for Youth; good site for tweens to kick-start a conversation.

STUDENTS REPORTING SEXUAL ASSAULT

- End Rape on Campus (EROC)
- RAINN
- National Sexual Assault Hotline
- National Organization for Victim Assistance (NOVA)

STUDENTS ACCUSED OF SEXUAL ASSAULT

- FACE - Families Advocating for Campus Equality
- Save Our Sons
- FIRE
- Sexual Assault Rights and Resources